

PLANE TALK NEWS

2.2013

Well, we started the year off right!

This year's penguin fun fly was one of the best we have had in some time. The temperature was hovering right around zero degrees, but with no wind it wasn't too bad. We had one of the best turn outs I have seen.

As you can see above, we did have snow covering the runway which made it great for those with skis and not so great for those of us with wheels... Yes, Robbie, I still owe you a coffee.

If the cold was just too much, we had the heat on and good hot chili inside to warm you up.

Following the flying we held our monthly meeting. We recapped a few items from last year and talked about exciting new events coming up for this next year.

The club's annual penguin fly was not the only RC related event this past month. The Iowa City club held their annual RC swap meet. Noah and I made the trip over there to find many of our own club members looking for good deals. It was a great swap meet with a great turn out.

I am excited for many of the club events we already have in the works for this year. If you are interested in an event or putting one on, please contact any of the board members.

See you at the field,
Duane
